Will Phil crack under the stress of saying goodbye to his mum?

PEGGY IS LAID TO REST

EASTENDERS | BBC1 Monday

It's a sad day in Walford this week, as the Mitchell clan gather to say a fond final farewell to their beloved matriarch Peggy.

However, with Phil understandably crippled by grief – and his returned sister Sam causing trouble wherever she goes – it falls to Sharon to take charge of her late mother-in-law's funeral. Will she be able to work her magic so that Peggy has the send-off she deserves? Or will it be a day that ends up haunting the family forever?

"Peggy's final scenes were so special that it's only right her funeral is special, too – and it really is," shares actress Letitia Dean, who plays Sharon. "It's a proper East End affair with her nearest and dearest, and although it's a very emotional and difficult day for the family, it's a beautiful send-off. I think Peggy would have been proud to see it!"

Nothing is ever easy where the Mitchells are concerned, though, and Sharon faces a challenge in making sure the day runs smoothly.

"There was a really lovely moment between Sharon and Peggy before she died, when she virtually handed over the matriarchal baton to Sharon as head of the family," Letitia reminds us. "They acknowledged that they hadn't always been each other's biggest fans, but recognised how important they were to each other."

"It was possibly at that point that Sharon realised she was always going to be a part of Phil's life, and that there was no way on Earth she wasn't going to be there for him," continues the star. "She's definitely the one rallying the troops and making decisions when everyone else is at a loss."

Of course, Sharon's first priority is her husband,

“SHARON KNOWS THAT SHE HAS TO STAND UP AND BE THE STRONG ONE” who is struggling to write his mother's eulogy. The poor fella has been in bits ever since he discovered Peggy had taken her own life, and the words for her memorial don't come easily to him.

"Sharon is really quite worried about Phil, who's finding it very difficult to prepare for the funeral," explains Letitia. "She knows that he wants to do his mum proud, but she's also worried that he's putting himself under too much pressure."

"Seeing how vulnerable Phil is really hits Sharon, and it makes her stand up and be the strong one," adds the star. "She knows the family needs her to be in charge."

As Peggy's horse-drawn funeral procession arrives in the Square, the Mitchells are visibly heartbroken.

“Sharon’s future is with Phil!”

However, the sombre occasion isn’t enough to persuade some members of the clan to cut out the sniping, with Sam in particular proving to be a real handful.

“It’s obviously been a while since anyone has seen Sam, Mitchells. Peggy was Sam’s mum, though, so of course she has to be at the funeral.”

As proceedings at the church get under way, emotions are running high to say the least. And when the rest of the Albert Square locals later join the Mitchells in the Queen

Vic for the former landlady’s wake, it doesn’t look as if any of the tensions between them have been resolved.

Can the family put their differences aside so that Peggy’s farewell remains all about her? Or will there be one last twist as the great lady herself has the final word?

LAURA-JAYNE TYLER

“SAM ISN’T HAPPY THAT SHARON IS SO INVOLVED WITH THE MITCHELLS”

and she’s still trouble through and through,” reckons Letitia. “Sharon does have a bit of a run-in with her, as Sam makes clear that she’s not happy that Sharon is so involved with the LETITIA KNOWS WHO HER ALTER EGO SHOULD BE WITH...

The most obvious absentee from Peggy’s funeral is her other son, Grant – and that’s the best possible outcome for Sharon, who shared a tender moment with her ex the last time they were together.

“When Sharon found out that Grant wasn’t planning to attend the funeral, I think she was relieved,” reckons Letitia. “When he was last in Walford, they shared a ‘moment’, and all the history and old feelings between them flared up unexpectedly. I think she’s pleased not to have the distraction.”

Given the connection between them, though, can Sharon be certain that her future really lies with Phil and not his brother?

“Yes!” declares the star. “Sharon and Phil have been through so much together, and if they’ve made it this far, they shouldn’t walk away from each other. They have this pull that always brings them back together in the end...”

Poor Phil is at the end of his tether as he tries to deal with Peggy’s passing

I'M HAVING HIS BABY!

Belle drops a bombshell...

Belle has a hell of a shock in store for Dr Bailey this week – as she announces that she's expecting his child!

Sacked from his job and knee-deep in scandal, the cheating medic is all set to leave the village far behind him when Belle drops the b-word, rocking him to the core. But as Bailey tries to come to terms with how this could have happened, is Belle being honest about her sudden pregnancy?

"The whole thing comes as an enormous shock," sighs Jane Cox, who plays Belle's mortified mother Lisa. "Belle reckons she's pregnant, and everyone stops in their tracks. Of course, Zak is furious and wants to kill Bailey – and Cain wants to get him, too! But Lisa is more concerned for her daughter, and the fallout of this mess she's got herself into."

The entire Dingle family are already doing their best to put as much distance between Belle and Bailey as they can – so his decision to scarpers is music to the clan's ears. Belle has other ideas, however. Heartbroken that the man she loves is about to leave her, she's desperate to change his mind – so blurts out the lie that she's up the duff! And just like Bailey, Belle's loved ones are fooled by the news...

"Lisa always seems to be pussyfooting around Belle when it comes to stuff like this,"

Belle decides that she can't let Dr Bailey go

Charity doesn't pull her punches – and neither do the newspaper headlines

Growing up Dingle!

Belle's misbehaviour has taken Lisa to hell and back – but Jane has nothing but praise for Edén Taylor-Draper, who plays her.

"I really take my hat off to Edén," enthuses Jane. "She has such a huge workload at the moment, but she gets on with it so professionally. She does her best with everything and I totally admire her – although I was a bit shocked when she started getting kissing scenes!"

"We have a cool relationship and can talk about anything. Edén is very mature. As her pretend mum, it's been lovely to see her growing up, and I'm very proud of her."

admits Jane. "Sometimes the girl is lying, sometimes she's not. But in this case, Lisa does believe Belle. Her first thought is sheer terror at the prospect of losing her daughter if she and Bailey head off together. She doesn't want that to happen, and immediately comes up with a plan to keep Belle close by at home.

"Lisa can see that Belle is smitten with Bailey, and she is on her daughter's side because of that," continues the actress. "Before he was involved with Belle, Lisa really liked Bailey, as he was a great help with her angina. But once the affair was revealed, that all changed. Regardless of Belle's feelings, the Dingle clan don't approve of what he's done, and consider it right that Bailey has lost his job."

Nevertheless, it looks as if all hope of keeping Belle in the fold might be lost when she informs her family that she'll be moving to Romania with Bailey. Charity and Zak are incensed, and violently confront the former GP – with Charity the first to wonder whether Belle is telling the truth about expecting a baby after all.

However, are they too late to stop Belle from abandoning the village in favour of her lover?

BILLY DUMPS SEAN FOR TODD

CORONATION STREET | ITV Friday

There's no way for the pair to mend their relationship now...

There's misery for Sean this week, when Billy finally finds the courage to leave him for Todd.

Sean and his fella have been trying to put their relationship back together again following their brief split, but Sean has no idea that Billy has fallen for bad boy Todd. When Todd finally admits to Billy that he's falling for him too, it's a huge shock – and there's a decision to make. Sadly for Sean, it's clear which man Billy should be with...

"Sean is convinced Billy is 'The One', so whatever happens to them, he presumes they're for keeps," explains Antony

Cotton, who plays the oblivious fella. "He's bought into the story that their problems and Billy's aloof behaviour are down to his brother Lee. He has no idea of what's around the corner."

The truth is that Billy loves Todd, and he's just trying to fight his feelings because he thinks they're unreciprocated. But it's clear the spark is there when he goes to help Todd during a busy day in the florist, and they share a moment. By now, Todd is realising that he does feel the same way, and he's tortured by what it might do to his relationship with Sean. Meanwhile, Sean is planning a big weekend in London with Billy where he intends to introduce him to son Dylan.

"It's a very important trip for Sean," shares Antony. "He doesn't get to see Dylan a lot, so it's a monumental thing that this is the moment he'll introduce him to Billy. For Sean, it symbolises the next step in their relationship, especially after the little glitch they had."

As Sean is busy planning, Todd decides it's time for Billy to take a reality check. After an attempt to get Billy to admit that he doesn't love Sean any more fails, Todd gets drunk and confesses how much he feels for the stunned vicar. Billy is so confused that he continues to pack for London – but when he and Sean get into the taxi and he spots Todd at the door of the florist, everything changes.

"It's the catalyst that makes Billy realise he can't go with Sean," reveals Antony. "Sean is floored by that. He and Todd are like brothers, so it's going to be very difficult for Sean to live

HIS HEART ISN'T IN IT...

Sean's romantic track record makes for tragic reading – and this new chapter on Billy is another epic disappointment...

SONNY DHILLON

Bisexual Sonny cheated on his girlfriend Michelle Connor with former flame Sean.

JAMIE BALDWIN

Sean fell for Jamie – but Jamie was in love with his own stepmum, Frankie!

TIM WHITE Sean borrowed a dog to get close to handsome vet Tim, but it turned out Tim was a liar – he already had a boyfriend.

MARCUS DENT

Nurse Marcus ditched Sean after the lusty lad tried to snog Michelle's cousin Tom Kerrigan.

TODD GRIMSHAW

Wicked Todd manipulated Sean to do his bidding after realising that his friend had feelings for him.

with him now. This is going to have implications for everything that Sean has built on the Street for the last 13 years."

As Billy and Todd seal their love with a kiss, Sean is bereft.

"I love that vulnerable side of Sean," says Antony. "He's just like Raquel Watts – a romantic. I'm sure I'll get lots of sympathy, but poor Daniel Brocklebank [Billy] is going to get some grief for doing the dirty on Sean!"

Billy changes his mind about London after Todd's presence clarifies his feelings

44 faces SET TO ROCK THE SOAPS THIS summer!

Our essential guide to the characters who'll be setting our screens alight in the months ahead...

David & Kylie

Kylie and David can finally put the horror of the past year behind them, now Callum Logan's murder has been pinned on Tony Stewart.

We know that actress Paula Lane, who plays Kylie, is leaving Corrie – so under what circumstances will her character depart the cobbles?

"There is one final twist in the tale still to come," warns our Weatherfield spy. "Kylie's past has a habit of catching up with her, and jail is on the cards if she's exposed as Callum's true killer. Whatever happens, David loves Kylie with all his heart. He can't imagine life without her, and is bound to feel devastated following her departure."

David & Tracy

As David and Tracy's relationship steps up a gear, the impulsive fella will seize the day and ask her to marry him...

"In a moment of insanity, he'll propose to Tracy – but in a moment of sanity, she'll turn him down," shares Emmerdale series producer Iain MacLeod. "So, he decides to pop the question every single day until she says yes! And the more David tries, and the more outlandish his proposals become, the more Tracy falls in love with him."

Les & Pam & Paul

Les and Pam will be pushed to breaking point as wicked Babe continues to blackmail them. But when the trio are rocked by an unexpected twist, will Les' female alter ego Christine be exposed?

Meanwhile, Ben will be left heartbroken when boyfriend Paul makes his dramatic departure from the Square. Actor Jonny Labey, who plays Paul, has already warned that his exit will be "explosive" – so what is going to tear the Coker lad away from his beloved fella?

Cain & Charity & Moira

Charity's outrageous flirting with Cain is finally set to pay off when she succeeds in seducing her ex! But is it really the end for him and Moira?

"Charity has been circling the Cain and Moira camp trying to split them up for some time, and she will eventually get her man," grins Emmerdale head honcho Iain. "She's able to come in and deal what she thinks is the killer blow to that relationship – but how it happens, you'll just have to wait and see..."

Grant & Phil... & Mark Junior?

The Mitchell brothers are set for the ultimate family showdown when Grant returns to Albert Square later this summer.

"When the time comes and I don't have to play nice, I'm going to bring you a war, Phil," said Grant, detailing what would happen if his sibling did not pay back the money he owes him.

Also, speculation is rife that Grant will finally meet his secret son, Mark Junior, who was conceived during a one-night stand with Michelle Fowler over 20 years ago.

"Michelle carries this unexploded secret of the child," says the Walford soap's former boss, Dominic Treadwell-Collins. Admitting that he had been unsuccessful in luring Susan Tully – who played Michelle – back to the show, Dominic added: "There are ways around that..."

Phelan & Vinny

Weatherfield had better watch out, following the announcement that a new bad boy is on his way!

Former Doctors, Casualty and Emmerdale star Ian Kelsey has been cast as dodgy Vinny, who'll turn out to be an old associate of Phelan.

"With Jason out of the picture, Phelan is helping to look after Eileen's business interests," our cobbles spokesperson reminds us. "But Phelan has big plans, which is where property developer Vinny comes in..."

44 faces SET TO ROCK THE SOAPS THIS summer!

Nico & Peri

Spiteful Peri has caused her fair share of trouble lately, but that's nothing compared with what happens when she teams up with pal Nico again! The teen serial killer is back in Hollyoaks, and will be up to her old tricks...

"Peri has no idea what Nico is really capable of, so viewers are going to be shouting at their TV screens warning her to be careful!" insists our Hollyoaks insider. "Let's just say that the girls find themselves in a perilous situation, and the big question is: will either of them make it out alive?"

Marlon & Carly

A new romance is on the cards for Marlon when he ends up spending the night with April's babysitter, Carly!

"One of our big stories of the summer involves Marlon and Carly – and what happens when you sleep with one of your best mates," explains Dales series producer Iain. "How does a man, who might not necessarily see himself as a classic stud, feel about getting together with a woman who he might consider to be out of his league?"

Ronnie & Andy

The secret agenda of Ronnie's stalker Andy will finally become clear when his true identity is revealed this summer.

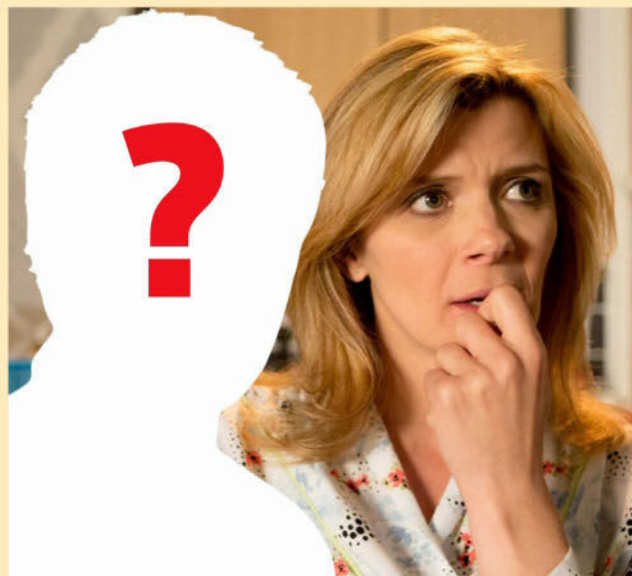

We already know that 'Andy' is the son of Andrew – the adoptive father of Ronnie's daughter, Danielle Jones – so will the builder actually turn out to be Danielle's brother Gareth?

And is Ronnie in danger as he puts his plan into motion?

Lee & Whitney & Abi

Wedding bells are on the horizon for lovebirds Whitney and Lee as they continue to plan their big day. But will the secret of his drunken one-night stand with Abi wreck their happiness?

"Don't forget that Abi caught a sexually transmitted infection from Ben before she slept with Lee," our EastEnders insider reminds us. "There is every chance she passed it on to Lee, who in turn could have put Whitney at risk. It's a secret that is just waiting to be exposed!"

Chrissie & Lawrence & Lachlan & Bernice & Andy

All hell will break loose at Home Farm when Lachlan shoots Lawrence!

The troubled teen will lose the plot after finding out about his grandad's past with Ronnie. However, the big twist this summer is that Chrissie will frame her boyfriend Andy for her son's crime!

"Andy is going to break her heart in spectacular fashion, and Chrissie is going to snap," reveals Emmerdale chief Iain. "She sets about trying to ruin his life, while pretending to stand by him. We're going to see her evolve into a sharper, funnier classic soap bitch."

Steve & Michelle

Michelle and Steve face a tough time attempting to rebuild their marriage following her clinch with teenage sweetheart, Will. But will a Band-Aid baby be the answer to their problems?

"As a dream storyline, Steve and Michelle should try for a baby," mused actress Kym Marsh – who plays her – recently. "Of course, I want them to stay together, but this is soapland so you never know what will happen!"

Lauren & Steven

"It would be boring if Steven was totally good," teased actor Aaron Sidwell recently, hinting that Ian's 'reformed' psycho stepson hasn't totally turned over a new leaf while away from Walford.

We know from a recent conversation with Lauren that there is absolutely no way he can return to their former home in New Zealand, so what really went on over there? The secret is set to come out soon...

Maria & Caz & Kate

The behaviour of Kate's possessive fiancée, Caz, is set to take a dark turn. We've recently seen the girls strike up a new friendship with Maria, so will she be caught in the crossfire?

"Brace yourselves as Caz is going to get worse," confirms actress Rhea Bailey, who plays her. "You're in for a bumpy ride, and it's going to get ugly!"

Rhona & Paddy & Pierce

The stage is set for an awkward reunion for Paddy and Rhona, when he returns to the village to find her loved-up with Pierce!

"It's a welcome turn for Paddy in that it'll give him the chance to redeem himself as a character," says Dales soap boss Iain. "I think we agree that his affair with Tess turned him into a baddy, so he comes back from Germany with a big point to prove. Paddy swears that he's a good guy and wants to do right by wife Rhona, which will create a big dilemma for her..."

Leanne & the daddy

It's the biggest baby bombshell to rock soapland this summer, as Leanne summons the courage to tell her mystery gentleman caller that she's carrying his child! But what will the news mean for the fella in question?

"Viewers' jaws will hit the floor after Leanne has the inevitable conversation with this man, and they discover his identity," promises our Coronation Street mole. "Of course, this pregnancy wasn't planned, and the pair will have no choice but to deal with the consequences. How will the father feel if Leanne decides that she wants to keep their baby?"

Ste & Harry & Tony

Troubled Ste will hit the self-destruct button again as his crystal meth addiction spirals dangerously out of control. But can his loved ones save him from himself?

"We have a special episode in July that I don't think has ever been done before in Hollyoaks," revealed Kieron Richardson, who plays Ste. "It involves just three characters – Ste, Harry and Tony – and it's mainly all set in Tony's flat with them trying to get Ste off crystal meth."

GAVIN STRIKES AGAIN!

EASTENDERS | BBC1 Tuesday

Sharon is horrified as her father kidnaps Kathy...

Evil Gavin is back in Walford this week, again determined to wreak dangerous havoc on his loved ones!

The situation is so volatile that his panicked sister Margaret turns up on Sharon's doorstep to warn her trouble is brewing. But preoccupied by Peggy's funeral (see p4), Sharon wants none of her dad's drama.

With his daughter distracted, Gavin sneaks back into Albert Square, and lures Kathy into his car by claiming to have his grandson Denny. Kathy is clearly terrified of her ex as they drive off to an unknown destination – but what does Gavin want with his family, and how far will he go to get it?

"Sharon doesn't realise the severity of the situation at first," admits Letitia Dean, who plays her. "Peggy's funeral is her priority, and the last thing on her mind is Gavin. When Margaret arrives to complain that Gavin has been acting strangely, it doesn't even cross Sharon's mind to help. She just wants the woman gone. Sharon knows Gavin is trouble, and she doesn't want anything to do with it."

As the week gets under way, Sharon has no choice but to get involved, after it transpires that Kathy has been kidnapped. Kathy is heading off for a secret rendezvous with potential new love Buster when Gavin stops her on the way to the station and insists he has Dennis. Concerned for the lad's safety, Kathy is forced to get in the car. But where is he planning to take her – and why?

Once the penny drops that something is seriously wrong, the pressure is on for Kathy. She realises she's fallen right into the thick of Gavin's latest scheme when Margaret turns up to try to reason with him.

“LIVES ARE AT RISK – GAVIN IS A MAN ON A MISSION AND HE'S VERY DESPERATE”

Gavin grabs hold of Kathy and takes her – but what is he after?

Margaret tries to warn Sharon that Gavin is up to something Back in the Square, meanwhile, panic spreads after Buster tells Sharon that he saw Gavin and Kathy driving off together.

"Sharon and Buster know Kathy needs help," sighs Letitia. "Her worst nightmare is Gavin influencing Dennis and being a part of his life – but she also knows Gavin is her dad, so part of Sharon believes he wouldn't hurt Kathy. Can she really be sure of that, though?"

Gavin has already done his worst before, but could that be about to pale into insignificance as his latest plot begins?

"All I will say is that lives are at risk," warns Letitia. "It's unclear how Gavin feels about his daughter and grandson – so is he just using them to get to Kathy? He's a man on a mission and he's very desperate – and that's a really dangerous mix!"

DEV & MARY'S INTIMATE EVENING!

What on earth will Erica say when Dev wakes up with the nanny?

Scandal engulfs the Alahan house this week, after Dev spends the night in a hotel bed with Mary!

The shocking turn of events come as Dev tries to surprise girlfriend Erica by whisking her away on a spa break, only for a medical emergency to derail everything. Poor Erica discovers her mum has had a fall, and is forced to abandon Dev – suggesting that he treat Mary to the pampering experience instead. Soon, Dev and Mary are en route to their luxury destination, but neither could have predicted the outrageous outcome...

The treatments themselves are relaxing, and Mary is in her element as she enjoys seeing how the other half lives. But Dev isn't so lucky – a back wax results in agony for the hirsute fella. So Mary suggests that they skip dinner in the bar and just kick back in their room with the minibar, leaving the cares of the day behind them.

Of course, the moment the minibar door swings open, all bets are off. Dev and Mary are both fond of a drink or two, and are soon having a grand old time. In fact, Dev gets so drunk that he passes out in bed, while Mary continues to empty the contents of the minibar. The

SAM PLANS TO ABANDON HER SON

Will she leave Richard with Jack?

Emotional Sam prepares to drop a massive bombshell on former flame Jack this week – by leaving their son Richard behind in Walford!

Jack is still finding it hard to deal with the fact Sam has brought the little lad with her to Peggy's funeral, mostly because he feels guilty that he has no relationship with his son. He's a devoted dad to Amy, and Jack considers himself a good man – but his failings with Richard are a bitter pill to stomach. So while he tries to find a way to bond with the boy, little does Jack know that Sam is secretly calculating her escape route.

"Sam's in a really bad place at the moment," says our Square source. "Peggy's death has devastated her, but her life is a mess too. She knows Richard is suffering because she can't get her act together. In her own twisted way, Sam thinks that just dumping him on Jack might be the most loving thing."

Meanwhile, oblivious Jack is trying to make the most of the short time Sam and Richard will be in Walford. He arranges to meet Richard properly, but when the two of them are left alone, it's incredibly awkward. Richard is wary of the strange man he's been told is his dad, and Jack can't seem to establish a rapport with the struggling youngster. That's until he discovers that Richard is an animal lover, and finds a way to break the ice...

However, as Jack introduces Richard to pooch Lady Di and they start to enjoy hanging out, it becomes clear to the Mitchells that Sam is in a state. Phil lashes out at her for drinking, but Ben tells his dad that there is clearly something deeply wrong. Then Roxy finds her with her suitcase packed, ready to head off.

"Roxy gets where Sam is coming from – she did exactly the same thing with Amy a few months ago," shares our spy. "So when Sam explains how tough she's finding motherhood, Roxy sympathises. Now she's just got to convince Sam not to run away from her problems."

Can Roxy persuade Sam not to leave Richard with Jack?

HAS PRIYA RUMBLLED RAKESH?

He's hiding his shameful arson secret...

Guilty Rakesh is pushed to breaking point this week – when his wife Priya starts to ask questions about the Mill Cottage fire.

The tortured fella has managed to keep the police at bay since the horrifying disaster, which almost claimed the lives of Nicola, Ronnie and Dan, but it's not easy for him to satisfy Priya's curiosity. So when she misunderstands a secret he's sharing with dad Rishi, Priya starts digging – and she's not going to like what she finds...

"Rakesh isn't a bad man, but he's made some really terrible choices," says our Emmerdale insider. "Of course he never meant for anyone to get hurt in the fire, but they did – and now Nicola could be paralysed. Priya has stood by Rakesh through thick and thin, but this may be a step too far."

Worse still, the insurance company is not satisfied with the information they've been given about the fire. When they send someone to the property to inspect the site, Rakesh is seriously rattled – but he's quick to lie to Priya about the reasons for the man's visit. Every lie seems to lead to another one, however, and soon Rakesh is facing the prospect that his insurance won't pay out.

Meanwhile, he's splashed out on an expensive birthday gift and surprise party for Priya, and roped in Rishi to help – which is why Priya suspects that they're hiding information about the fire from her.

"Seeing her dad and Rishi being as thick as thieves makes Priya even more nervous," sighs our mole. "She knows in her heart of hearts that Rakesh did this, but she needs the proof. His twitchy, secretive behaviour just makes her even more sure. It could be curtains for their marriage."

Rakesh tries to put things out of his mind as people arrive for the party. But when she rushes in to confront him, Priya spots the guests and feels awful for doubting her man.

Rakesh soon comes undone again, though, when he gets a visit from insurance company representative Neville, who's there to tell him there'll be no payout. When Rakesh challenges him, Neville coolly states that he must accept the decision, or the police will become involved. Is Rakesh ruined forever?

TRACY'S GRAVE GRIEF

She has no support on the anniversary of Deirdre's death...

CORONATION STREET ITV Friday

Frosty Amy continues to give Tracy the cold shoulder this week, leaving her mum feeling lonelier than ever a year after Deirdre's death.

Tracy has been trying to win back Amy's affections for ages, but it's been a fruitless effort – and not even her recent health scare is enough to thaw her daughter. Devastated that Amy won't visit her in hospital, Tracy is determined to fix things – but evidently she doesn't know Amy as well as she thinks...

"It's no secret that Tracy thinks money is the key to happiness, and although Amy rarely lets an opportunity to make some cash pass her by, on this occasion she can't be bought," shares our Corrie insider. "Talking hasn't got Tracy anywhere, so when she turns up at Simon's birthday party with plenty of gifts for Amy, she's hopeful it will make a start in winning her round – but her plan backfires.

"Amy is furious that Tracy thinks she can make everything okay with a few measly presents, so she gives her mum a piece of her mind and storms out."

With Robert and Ken also keeping their distance following Tracy's shambolic behaviour at Carla and Nick's wedding, the emotional lass has nobody to support her when the first anniversary of beloved Deirdre's death comes around. And things get worse when Ken suggests that Tracy visit Deirdre's grave separately from him and Amy to avoid any arguments. Luckily, Robert offers to accompany Tracy to the cemetery instead – but after tearful Amy distracts him, Tracy is left to pay a visit to Deirdre's grave all alone.

"Tracy feels incredibly lonely and would do anything to bring Deirdre back," sighs our sneak. "She loved her mum to bits, and no matter how abominably Tracy behaved, Deirdre was always there for her – even when she disapproved of what her daughter had done. Tracy is still finding it difficult to come to terms with Deirdre's death, and she's distraught to have no family around her on the day that she needs them most."

While grieving Tracy talks to Deirdre at her graveside, Robert provides Amy with a shoulder to cry on, and points out how much her mum is most likely suffering too. To Tracy's delight, Robert and Amy soon appear at her side, and she's thrilled when Amy later agrees to move home.

With Robert playing a pivotal role in reuniting Tracy with her daughter, there's no denying that he still cares for her very deeply. Could Tracy be about to win him back as well?

LEANNE'S NEW OLD MAN?

CORONATION STREET | ITV Friday

Simon suggests she reunite with Nick...

Nick comes to the rescue of former flame Leanne during Simon's birthday celebrations this week – and cheeky Simon tells Leanne that she should get back together with her ex!

"Leanne left her role at the Bistro out of loyalty to Nick, but her new job is making her miserable, and to top it off she has a very bad back," explains our cobbles spy. "This week, she agrees to take Simon for dinner and a movie as a treat for his birthday, and she really doesn't want to let him down. However, Nick realises she's in a lot of emotional pain, so he offers to take Simon instead."

Leanne gratefully accepts Nick's offer, and when the pair return from the cinema she's delighted to see Simon looking happier than ever. Simon has taken quite a shine to Nick, and once Simon is alone with Leanne, he mischievously declares that Nick has always been the one for her – and suggests they reunite!

"Well, they say you never forget your first love," grins our snoop. "If it wasn't for Nick's brain injury, he and Leanne might still be happily married! There's still a very powerful connection between them."

With Nick on the rebound from his calamitous relationship with Carla, Leanne is rightfully wary of her former husband's attentions. But as she's feeling so lonely herself, surely it can only be a matter of time before the old spark between Nick and Leanne is fanned into a flame?

Suffering Maddy closes herself off from the rest of the world

MADDY'S DEADLY COLLAPSE

Will anyone find her before it's too late?

Amputee Maddy puts herself in grave danger this week, after she runs away from hospital – little realising she's suffering from a potentially deadly MRSA infection!

The teen has been struggling to cope since the devastating explosion at the caravan park, which left her ex-boyfriend Oscar dead and Maddy herself with an amputated arm. It's a huge thing for her to get used to, so it's no wonder she bolts from the hospital – but her escape act could have dire consequences for her health...

"Poor Maddy's been through a life-changing operation, so you can't blame her for doing a runner," sympathises our Summer Bay insider. "Imagine how you'd feel if you'd had a limb removed. It's a huge adjustment, and with everything else that's happened in the aftermath of the explosion, Maddy needs some time out to get her head around it all."

Once Maddy's loved ones discover she's gone, they're worried sick about her health, especially as the doctors explain that she shouldn't even be moving around so soon after the amputation. Worse still, she hasn't taken her medication with her – meaning she's in serious danger of something else going wrong.

While her worried friends rally the locals to search for her, Maddy is holed up in a motel room, hiding away from the world. She's devastated that her operation prevented her from going to Oscar's funeral – so she decides to head to his grave to say a proper goodbye.

After receiving a tip-off that Maddy has been spotted at the cemetery, Matt and Alf race there to find her. Sadly they just miss her, leaving them back at square one. But Maddy could desperately do with their help – back in her motel room, her condition deteriorates rapidly.

"Maddy starts to realise that she needs help," our mole informs us. "By this point she's so weak that she can't even reach the phone to call anyone. She collapses on the motel room floor, all alone. Things don't look good for her..."

Meanwhile, Maddy's nearest and dearest have even more reason to be worried when Tori delivers the news that Maddy's test results have shown she's suffering from a deadly MRSA infection! The next 24 hours are critical – so can Maddy's concerned loved ones track her down before it's too late?

WARREN'S BACK!

Which local lady has he set his sights on?

Sienna could be a willing accomplice for Warren...

...and he might like to try his luck with glamorous Grace

The Hollyoaks ladies had better watch out! Jailbird Warren Fox is back in the village this week – and he's on the prowl for a new woman.

Soap bosses are keeping the exact details of Warren's return under wraps, but viewers have already seen him on screen in the past few weeks, trying to bribe his crooked lawyer James Nightingale to get him out of jail. And it looks as though his tactics have worked, because Warren is now a free man...

"Warren is hell-bent on returning to Hollyoaks, and it's clear he's got a big plot up his sleeve," teases our insider. "Whether he's back in the village for revenge against the people who've wronged him, or whether he's simply looking for a sucker to bankroll his next business venture, viewers will just have to wait and see!"

Fans will recall that Warren was sent to prison in 2011 for the murder of his fiancée Louise Summers. It was thanks to the scheming of Anne 'Mitze' Minniver and Brendan Brady that he ended up going down for the crime – and although those two are long gone, Mitze's sister Maxine and Brendan's former lover Ste are still living in the village.

So, could Warren be out for revenge against one of those two? If he's hoping to target Maxine, he'll have a dangerous ally in her stepdaughter Sienna, who's currently plotting to take Maxine down for Patrick Blake's murder. Might the two team up to wreak havoc in the village?

"Warren and Sienna would be a lethal combination!" grins our spy. "Then again, so would Warren and Grace Black – she'll have Trevor's life insurance burning a hole in her pocket, so she'd be a very attractive prospect to Warren indeed."

Let's hope Warren's latest lady friend doesn't end up six feet under like his ex Louise...

JACOB'S

Will Connie realise her true feelings for him before it's too late?

CASUALTY | BBC1 Saturday

RIVER PLUNGE!

Jacob recklessly puts his life on the line to save a man from drowning this week – leaving his ex-girlfriend Connie terrified that she'll lose the man she still loves!

The former couple are on their way to a conference when their car is flagged down by a panicked passer-by, who tells them that a man is trapped in a nearby storm drain. While Connie calls for backup, Jacob jumps straight in and tries to rescue him – but when he's washed away downstream, it looks as though it could be game over for the medic...

"Saving lives is second nature to Jacob – he dives into the water without a thought for his own safety," explains our

Casualty insider. "However, the current is strong and he's swept away – and all Connie can do is stand on the bank and watch in horror as he careers towards a waterfall."

After Jacob manages to pull himself up on to the safety of the bank, Connie begs him not to jump back in. But with the distressed man still floundering in the water, Jacob ignores her warnings and goes to the stranger's aid once more.

The pair spend an agonising few minutes hurtling towards danger before Jacob manages to grab hold of the injured man and haul him up on to dry land. There's relief all round as the ambulance arrives and Jacob is given the all clear – but his brush with death gives Connie much food for thought as she realises just how close she came to losing him.

After the shaken duo continue on their way to the conference, Connie is Jacob's rock as he attempts to overcome his fear of public speaking and deliver a presentation about gun crime to the guests. But when Connie later tries to book a room in the hotel, she's flustered to learn that the only one left is the one adjoining Jacob's! So, with temptation right next door, will the ED boss finally admit how she feels about her ex?

"Remember that the only reason Connie dumped Jacob in the first place was because her daughter Grace forced her to," our mole reminds us. "It's clear that she still loves him, and he never stopped loving her. When they're thrown together at the conference, it's only a matter of time until one thing leads to another..."

It's not long before Connie and Jacob are getting hot and heavy in her hotel room as they make up for lost time! But can they really make their romance work now?

Dastardly Phelan has continued plotting away while Michael's been in Brighton, and the villain looks set on big plans for the builders' yard now that Jason is gone.

Although Eileen is calling the shots in Jason's absence, Phelan is pulling the strings behind the scenes, and this week he pressures Eileen into increasing the rent on Steph and Andy's flat so he can

PASSION FOR PIPER!

She plans to lose her virginity to handsome Tyler...

Things are heating up between Piper and Tyler this week, as they struggle to keep their hands off each other – and Piper announces that she's ready to go all the way!

While it's been clear for a while that the pair share a mutual attraction, the age gap has been a problem – and with Piper still in school, Tyler has refused to embark on a romance unless her parents consent to them dating. But while he thinks they have Brad and Terese's approval, little does he realise that Piper's been lying to him...

"Deep down, Piper knows that her parents – especially her mum – will never support her relationship with Tyler," says Mavournee Hazel, who plays the schoolgirl. "But she gets so swept up in her lie to Tyler that she thinks she'll be able to bring her parents round to the idea of them dating! She hates lying to Tyler, but worries that he'll break up with her if he learns the truth."

With Tyler believing that they have the green light from the Willises, he and Piper have embarked on a full-blown romance – though she's been trying to keep things on the down-low so her parents don't find out. Still, it's clear Piper is smitten with the hunky Brennan brother – and she confides in Xanthe that she's planning to sleep with him on the night of the school formal!

"Piper wants to show Tyler how much he means to her, and also prove that she is way beyond her years in terms of maturity," reckons Mavournee. "She runs the plan past Xanthe, who obviously loves the idea. Despite Piper's feminist streak and grungy demeanour, she is a bit of a romantic, and is a sucker for these sentimental notions!"

So, will Piper's planned night of passion go ahead, or will her parents discover her secret and call a halt to it? Judging by Piper and Tyler's popularity among fans, it seems viewers will be rooting for them to stay together – and Mavournee tells us that she's delighted by the support for the pair.

"The fans have been loving this storyline – as have Travis [Burns, who plays Tyler] and I!" she grins. "They're invested in the outcome, which makes our scenes together so exciting. We're constantly thinking of people's reactions, and how we can better their investment in their relationship."

But while Mavournee is loving the romance, there's one aspect of the story that she's not been so keen on...

"I had a real issue with the advice that Xanthe was giving to Piper," she admits. "Any girls reading this need to know that this is not how you get a boy to like you! If Piper came to me for advice, I'd tell her that she needs to ignore what everyone else thinks and follow her own heart, because it has no reason to lie to you."

THE BIG INTERVIEW

As Bethany battles the bullies while her family falls apart, star Lucy Fallon is taking it all in her stride...

I want
Craig to be Bethany's
boyfriend!

CORONATION STREET | ITV Monday

Being a teenager is no easy task at the best of times – but Bethany Platt is going through hell right now. Having suffered at the hands of her ruthless bullies for months, she has nowhere left to turn. And with her troubled mum Sarah in hospital and the rest of her family also stressed to the nines, the lonely lass has never felt more desperate. This week, she's conned into believing that her biggest bully Lauren is set to call a truce – though it's nothing but heartless fakery. And with no end in sight for Bethany, actress Lucy Fallon, who plays her, can feel her alter ego's pain...

Bethany is having a rough ride at the moment – have you found her bullying storyline tough to play, Lucy?

It's upsetting to think that this kind of stuff does happen to girls and boys, and the scenes can be quite harrowing. I've never been subjected to bullying myself, but I do know what girls can be like, how horrible they can be to each other. My younger cousin was quite badly bullied at her school. It's all been sorted now, but I've spoken to her about it. And I've also had a lot of tweets from girls around the same age as Bethany who tell me the story has helped them to open up about it.

Does it feel like a big responsibility when viewers respond in that way?

Actually, it makes me feel good when people get in touch – a lot of people have made nice comments, and I'm

Kylie the confidante: Bethany has had support from her fellow Platt – but Kylie has problems of her own glad that we've done the storyline justice. I don't have all the answers because I've not been bullied myself, but I'm happy young people are getting involved.

“GIRLS TELL ME THE STORYLINE HAS HELPED THEM OPEN UP”

Do you think teenage girls are under a lot of pressure to act a certain way in order to avoid being bullied?

I do think it's hard for girls, yes. The whole skinny thing, and trying to keep up with make-up and fashion trends. And if you're not allowed to wear what other girls wear, that's when bullying can set in. I was never allowed to wear lots of make-up at school, but my friends did. I also wasn't allowed to go to nightclubs. There was a time my mum did let me go to a club – but she also picked the outfit I had to wear!

Have you sometimes found it difficult to switch off after filming finishes?

During a scene where Bethany was upset and crying, I was really crying. I just couldn't stop for a long time afterwards. Normally I can stop and switch off, but I think I got a bit too into it that day!

How do you get on with Shannon Flynn, the actress who plays Lauren?

Well, luckily she's nothing like Lauren in real life! Shannon's lovely. We first met during the auditions for the role of Bethany. She also presents a kids' programme called Friday Download on CBBC. She plays the part of Lauren very well, and she's really nice to work with.

We're pleased to hear that! But it's a very different story for Bethany – she is definitely in need of a good friend right now, isn't she?

She is – she feels very isolated at the moment. Everything that's happening with her mum Sarah, and Callum's body being found in the Platt household, it all builds and builds. She really wants to talk to her mum, but with everything that's going on, she feels as if she can't speak to her about anything.

Bethany has managed to confide in Kylie – but Kylie has a lot on her mind right now. Can Bethany open up to anyone else, do you think?

I reckon Craig would be a good friend for Bethany, because he's lovely – and Colson Smith, who plays him, is lovely too! I get on really well with Colson, so I'd like to have more scenes with him. It would be great if she had a boyfriend like Craig, but he's probably too nice for Bethany. I'd also like her boyfriend to be Ed Westwick, who played Chuck in Gossip Girl – he's lovely!

Mother of all problems: Sarah hasn't been there for her daughter lately

Well, perhaps he'll be reading and get in touch! But with Kylie set to be leaving the cobbles very soon, what advice would you give to Bethany?

To tell an adult she trusts. Or she could tell someone like Craig and then I could have more scenes with him, ha ha! But I think talking about it can help. I've been called nasty things by girls at school, and I don't really let things like that bother me – but of course, some people do. When people say horrible things to you, it can be really difficult not to take it to heart.

Are you going to miss Paula Lane, who plays Kylie, when she leaves?

Yes! I'm really sad that she's leaving. The dynamic of the Platt family works really well, so it's going to be very sad without her, – but Paula has to do what she has to do. It's good for her to try other things.

It's been more than a year since you arrived on the cobbles – are you feeling properly at home now?

I am. I'm happy and I'm settled – I'm really enjoying this bubble that I'm in. When I first started, the older members of the cast gave me loads of great advice, and I've got used to being here now. It's amazing being on the Street, and working on one of the biggest shows on telly ever! I don't know yet how bad it's going to get for Bethany, but I'm really excited about what's coming up for her.

Bethany has recently turned 16, but you're actually 20. Does that ever cause you problems when you go out?

It's not been as bad as I thought it might be. If I do get recognised in a bar, people will usually tell me, "You shouldn't be in here!". But it's fine – I just pretend I haven't heard that one before!

ALLISON JONES

Blackpool rocks!

LUCY'S REAL-LIFE CLAN COULDN'T BE FURTHER FROM THE PLATTS...

While Bethany's nearest and dearest greet disaster on an almost daily basis, Lucy's family life is the polar opposite. The actress has recently moved back to Blackpool to live with her parents, where she's more than happy to be lapping up home comforts.

"I did move to Manchester for a while, but I prefer Blackpool," she tells us. "It's where all my friends and family are, and my sister has just had a baby, so it's nice to be back with everyone."

By the sounds of it, the Fallons like to take full advantage of living by the seaside, and even enjoy meeting up on the beach for family fitness sessions...

"My uncle was five stone heavier two years ago, but he's been doing loads of power-walking to lose weight," explains Lucy. "He's been making us all do a boot camp on Blackpool beach!"

“Laurel has to leave Ashley – or else she’ll drink!”

It’s another heartbreaking week for the Thomas family, shares Dales actress Charlotte Bellamy...

We all rejoiced when Ashley and Laurel remarried. Everything seemed right with the world once again. But the stark reality of their relationship is that there will be no happy ending, as Ashley’s dementia diagnosis means his condition will only deteriorate, and Laurel will eventually lose him altogether. While they’ve bravely faced up to this inevitability so far, last week Laurel made a big mistake when she accepted a glass of wine from Ashley – knowing he’d forgotten she’s an alcoholic. It’s a choice that has catastrophic repercussions for their relationship...

“Laurel is pregnant, and she’s just drunk a bottle of wine,” says Charlotte Bellamy, who plays her. “She feels so guilty because she’s let herself and Ashley down. As an alcoholic, Laurel will always be tempted to drink, especially when stressful situations occur. The past two weeks have really got to Laurel, and when Ashley gave her the glass of wine, she grabbed the opportunity.”

When she wakes up hungover, the mum-to-be is appalled with herself. But she’s also feeling desperate for another drink. After ex-husband Marlon spots her, he realises she’s been drinking and takes her to his house to try to talk some sense into her. Laurel, in response, tries to seduce Marlon!

“She does it because she’s desperate for more wine,” explains Charlotte. “It’s all pretty ugly. Alcoholism is ugly. So Marlon tells her she can stay at his house and drink herself stupid – that’s her choice. But he insists she doesn’t do it in front of anyone else and that he’s going to work. Laurel is furious that he’s given her that choice, and she has to make this decision on her own.”

After much thought, Laurel comes to a heartbreaking conclusion: she believes the stress of Ashley’s condition is too much. As her dad Doug warned, Laurel can’t cope with the reality of their life together now – so she prepares to leave her husband again.

“EMMERDALE WANTS TO SHOW THE REALITY OF ALCOHOLISM”

“Laurel realises she has to leave Ashley, or else she’ll drink,” sighs Charlotte. “If she leaves him, she can focus on the children. That’s when the decision becomes clear to Laurel, and she knows what she has to do.”

However, it’s not that simple, and when Laurel breaks the news to Ashley, it’s more than she can bear to see him so cut up. And as Laurel heads out to talk things over with Doug, Ashley is busy trying to think of a way to convince her to stay.

“The only person who can help Laurel is herself,” admits Charlotte. “As an alcoholic, no one else can stop you. The audience has to understand her predicament, and understand why she’s being pulled in every direction. Emmerdale wants to show the reality of alcoholism, and that it isn’t something Laurel is going to be cured of. In the years to come, she will always have those moments. Once you are an alcoholic, you always are.”

It’s an emotional storyline for Charlotte and co-star John Middleton (Ashley), as they play out the final chapter of their characters’ story. For Charlotte, filming drinking scenes this time was quite bizarre.

“I had a huge bump, so it felt really wrong,” she tells us. “You don’t see Laurel being really drunk, which is good. You see her drink one glass and then the next step is the morning after. It would be distressing to see a drunk pregnant woman.”

It’s not clear where Laurel and Ashley’s story will go next, but Charlotte says Dales bosses hope the balance allows viewers to be moved and inspired by what they see.

“We want to show that it’s not all doom and gloom, while also keeping it realistic,” she shares. “Ultimately, it’s a love story, and there is hope. We want other people who are going through this experience to know that they are not alone.”

GETTING SUPPORT!

CHARLOTTE OFFERS SOME ADVICE...

Tackling a real-life health issue is nothing new for soaps. But Emmerdale is breaking fresh ground with Ashley's dementia storyline. For those also going through what the Thomas family are dealing with, Charlotte says there are some important resources to use.

"The biggest advice we got was to use support groups," she tells us. "The groups are vital for people and their families to rely on and turn to. You can't struggle with this alone – it's impossible. As Ashley's condition progresses, there are times when a person suffering like that won't make any sense. If you are caring for someone in that position, you could go mad."

It's the collective support, and connecting with other carers going through this, that comes as a big relief for many, according to Charlotte.

"You can call people at all times, and that's how you get through it," she explains. "Emmerdale is really going to concentrate on that because we've met with a lot of groups. It's important that everyone knows that thousands of people are going through this too."

As Marnie schemes to split the couple up, actress Amrit Maghera – who plays Neeta – tells us that her alter ego is no pushover...

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 Tues

If the ladies in Mac Nightingale's life were to have a fight, we'd be hard pressed to know who to put our money on. His ex-wives Marnie and Cindy would certainly pull out every dirty trick in the book to secure a victory, and we'd fear for his lovely fiancée Neeta against two seasoned schemers like them!

Neeta does indeed find herself on the receiving end of Marnie's wickedness this week, as the bitch ropes daughter Ellie into setting up the poor lass. But when we grab Hollyoaks star Amrit Maghera – who plays Neeta – for a chat about her alter ego's predicament, she warns us not to underestimate nice girl Neeta...

"Neeta may seem like a little ray of sunshine, but deep down she really is quite strong," insists the actress, who first appeared on our screens as Neeta in October last year. "She won't stand for any rubbish when push comes to shove! She's not to be messed with, and I think that's something the audience will see as time goes on.

"The viewers find Neeta quite funny, and I really enjoy playing her. It's nice to play someone

It's all going to Kick off between Mac & Neeta!

Rocky road ahead: Things are about to change for the loved-up pair who's got that ditzy thing going on, but in the stuff that I've been shooting recently, we're finding out she's more than that."

Neeta certainly needs her wits about her this week, as conniving Marnie schemes to cause a rift in her relationship with Mac. When she spots that local Lothario Jesse has a soft spot for Neeta, Marnie pushes the two of them together – and naive Neeta is totally oblivious to her meddling.

"Marnie recommends Neeta for an interior design job at the Donovans' new salon," explains Amrit. "Neeta just thinks, 'Oh, Marnie is nice after all, maybe I should give her a chance'. But Marnie is never nice, so I don't know why Neeta falls for it!"

Marnie's intentions are anything but kind on this occasion! After Neeta and Ellie

"NEETA MAY SEEM LIKE A RAY OF SUNSHINE, BUT SHE IS STRONG"

get invited to a party the Donovans are throwing, Marnie encourages her daughter to drive a wedge between Neeta and Mac.

"This is the first time since arriving in Hollyoaks that Neeta has actually been out with people her own age," reveals Amrit. "But she's a lightweight, so she has a bit too much to drink. She ends up falling asleep in Jesse's arms, quite innocently. But Ellie takes a photo of Neeta and Jesse, and plans to use it to push Mac's buttons."

As guilty Neeta creeps back into the Dog the next morning, having been out all night, it certainly looks as though she's been up to no good! Viewers will have to wait and see what happens next – but surely she wouldn't cheat on Mac, would she?

"At the moment she doesn't have any reason to cheat on him," reckons Amrit. "She's completely in love with Mac – he's her world, and she just thinks he's brilliant. But there is a different side to Mac that might come out later. Just like most people, he's not sweet and lovely the whole time!"

Let's hope that Marnie's mischief-making doesn't cause too many problems for the Dog's golden couple, as Amrit believes they're actually a perfect match.

"I do think they make a good couple – it's really nice to play a young girl who's dating an older guy," she grins. "Age really is just a number. In real life it doesn't matter how old you are, or where you come from – if you love each other, nothing's going to stop you. Neeta and Mac are very happy together, but it's definitely about to kick off!"

After nine months in the show, Amrit is settling in at Hollyoaks very nicely. But it's not her first taste of the showbiz lifestyle...

"When I got a performing arts degree, I was a backing dancer for a bit," she tells us. "I danced in a Bollywood film, and did some jobs around Europe – I even danced with Kanye West at the Brits! Looking back, I still can't believe that happened to me!"

A FIRST TIME FOR everything!

AMRIT TELLS US ALL ABOUT JOINING HOLLYOAKS...

PHOTO XPOSURE

"My first scene in Hollyoaks involved me getting into a car and driving off – it was quite nerve-wracking, as I hadn't driven in a really long time! I had to hit my mark, and make sure I didn't crash into anything, so it was a lot of pressure."

"The first cast mate I met was Sophie Porley, who plays Ellie."

During the audition process they were putting lots of different combinations of people together, and I was always with Sophie. After the final audition we got the train back to London together, and we were chatting all the way."

"I watched my first episode with Jared [Garfield, who plays Nathan]."

He was at my house helping me build furniture from IKEA – very rock and roll – when I remembered that my first episode was on. So we put the telly on and watched it together."

"The first big Hollyoaks party I went to was at Halloween, and I had an absolute blast. Everybody went all out – some even got professional make-up done! They're such a great bunch of people to work with, and we have so much fun every day."

“Paige isn’t ready to let Jack go yet

Now the truth about Jack has been revealed, we thought it was time for a natter with the actor who plays him, Andrew Morley...

It’s hard to keep any plots in soap a secret these days – with camera phones and social media, there’s always someone who hears or sees something, then posts it online. Which is why it was such a joy to witness Neighbours viewers’ shock when they finally discovered John Doe’s identity recently – his real name is Jack Callahan, and he’s a Catholic priest!

It came as a genuine surprise to fans, whose theories about his background ranged from him being part of a violent gang to being a long-lost relative of Paul Robinson! But as we sit down for a chat with Andrew Morley, who plays the holy man, he reckons that keeping the truth under wraps was no mean feat...

“I’m so happy with how it panned out – it was brilliant work from everyone,” shares the star, as he joins us on the phone from his home in Melbourne.

“Even the extras who were on set that were fans of the show respected the story, and didn’t reveal anything they’d found out. It was nice to be a part of a plot reveal that we’d all worked hard on.

“Even I didn’t know anything about my character until I’d been here a few weeks,” adds Andrew. “I actually auditioned for a smaller role initially, but they wanted me around for longer and offered me the part of Jack. I knew nothing at all when I started, other than that he was a nice person with morals.”

Ever since Jack rocked up on the fateful day of the Lassiters explosion – which caused him to lose his memory

– he’s been trying to piece together who he really is. And now that the truth about his devotion to God has been revealed, we can’t believe we didn’t work it out sooner.

“There were a couple of clues along the way, such as the fact that he holds his keys like rosary beads!” chuckles Andrew. “And he’s a good listener. He’s thoughtful, he gives people his time, and he always offers good advice. I think viewers were banking on Paige knowing what’s right, and most of them thought he couldn’t be responsible for the Lassiters explosion – they didn’t think he was a killer. And even if he was, they said they’d still love him anyway!”

“NEIGHBOURS IS REALLY EXCITING – A NEW TWIST EVERY WEEK”

Of course, Jack’s devotion to God explains a lot, like the fact that he’s always felt something was holding him back from getting involved with Paige. There’s clearly still a real attraction between the pair, even now they both know the truth. This week, Paige is determined to breach John’s defences by flirting with him as outrageously as she can! Can he resist temptation?

“Jack’s feelings for Paige are complicated – he’s never felt this strongly about anyone before,” explains Andrew. “As a priest, he can’t commit to anyone but God, so it’s a battle. There are a lot of ifs and maybes, and it’s really heartfelt on both sides.

“Paige wants Jack to tell her more about his calling and try to make her understand. She’s not ready to let him go yet, and they’re both questioning if it can still work as just a platonic relationship. It’s such a sad story, but a really beautiful one, too.”

Since arriving on our screens in April, Andrew’s been in the thick of the action. But having spent two years on Home and Away as Spencer Harrington, he is more than capable of handling a fast-paced soap.

“It’s been consistently exciting – every week there’s a new twist in the story, which I’m really grateful for,” enthuses the star. “Coming off another soap, I know how it can be when your character is limited in growth, so to play someone who’s on such an interesting journey and has such a great backstory is just lovely.

“I guess the main thing with Home and Away is the beach – it’s such a beautiful location, and more representative of Australia. But it’s great for me being back home in Melbourne, and we’re doing a lot more filming around the city. Jack even has his own church now!”

Fighting FIRES!

AS WELL AS PLAYING a charitable chap on screen, Andrew is something of a saint in real life, too! When he's not at work on the Neighbours set, he spends his time volunteering with the local fire brigade...

"I work with a brigade that's fully volunteer, and we get between 500 and 600 calls a year," he reveals.

"We do about six hours of training a week, so it's significant, but a brilliant way to give back to the community.

"People often recognise me – I was collecting money on the corner by the traffic lights the other day, and it put off a few people who were meant to go on the green light! And I've been recognised while pulling people out of car wrecks. I even had a policeman ask for a selfie because his girlfriend is a big fan."

Carli picked up the Belinda baton earlier this year, as the prodigal sister at last returned to Albert Square. Here, the star talks style, sequins and vegetable soup...

How did the role of Belinda come about for you?

...asks Mary, via email

I was still in Holby City [playing nurse Fran Reynolds] when my agent said EastEnders would like me to read for the part of Kat's sister. I thought there was no way I'd get it, but I did and I've been here for a while now. It would be great if all the other Slater girls came back, too – I'd love them on the Square again!

Is it true that you've appeared in EastEnders before?

...asks Maggie from Preston

Yes, Maggie – it was actually my first TV job back in 1998! I played a character called Alice who was Lenny Wallace's girlfriend. Alice had Hepatitis B and came to Albert Square to tell him. It was a short and sweet part, but very exciting.

Who would win in a fight between Belinda and Kat?

...asks Meryl, via email

Kat, definitely! I think Belinda is all mouth, but Kat is all mouth and slap. Working with Jessie [Wallace, who plays Kat] during Charlie's funeral storyline was amazing. We clicked immediately – we're friends now, and I hope we'll stay in touch forever as she's a lovely person. I'm really excited about seeing her and Shane [Richie, aka Alfie] in [EastEnders spin-off] Redwater, too.

Would Belinda and Mick make a good couple if she managed to tempt him away from Linda?

...asks Babs from Stockton

Well, I don't think she would ever manage to tempt him away from Linda! Mick and Linda are so besotted with each other, they're the ideal couple. And I think that's probably why Belinda likes him, actually, because she never had that with her husband Neville, and it's all she's ever wanted. So hopefully there will be another man to come along and charm her just as much as Mick charms everybody. I worked with Danny [Dyer, aka Mick] on a film called Run For Your Wife years ago, and we hit it off. He's a good friend, so I'm lucky to be working with him – and everyone here, actually!

Belinda always looks immaculate – is there anything in her wardrobe you'd like to steal?

...asks Vicki, via email

Funnily enough, there are a few items in her wardrobe that are very similar to my own clothes. I ran a retro boutique from home a few years ago, and I love that 50s silhouette, so I've introduced it into Belinda's wardrobe. And the make-up team love doing the 50s hair and make-up. When I played Martha Kane in Hollyoaks, that wasn't so glamorous – I remember one horrific day when I had to lay on the floor of the Kanes' kitchen covered in vegetable soup, pretending that I'd just been ill. It wasn't the most elegant role, I have to say!

Before Belinda: Carli previously played staff nurse Fran Reynolds in Holby City

Taking the Mick: Belinda has tried to tempt the Vic landlord away from Linda

Len and now: Carli was once on the Square as Lenny's girlfriend Alice

You played a nurse in Holby and Doctors – have you picked up any medical tips?

...asks Sasha, via email

No – I couldn't pronounce any of the medical words, and the only thing I did pick up was to keep rubbing my hands with the alcohol rub. There were some scenes when we had to look at a wound or dress a wound, and the make-up they used would make me physically feel sick. I can't stand the sight of blood, so I don't think I'd make a very good nurse at all. I'm rubbish if my children cut their finger!

If you could pick another job to do for just a day, what would you choose?

...asks Sue, via email

I do remember when having my first baby, I thought the midwife did such a great job. And though I can't stand the sight of blood, I'd love to be a midwife for the day, just so I could bring a baby into the world. It's a magical moment.

Have you ever been star-struck while at EastEnders?

...asks Helen from Stratford

All the time, Helen! Ross Kemp [Grant] was here the other day, and I didn't know what to say to him. It was the same with Barbara Windsor [Peggy Mitchell] – I always get star-struck, but I manage to hide it.

What is your pet hate?

...asks Katy, via email

I can't bear bad manners! That includes people who don't say nice things, people who don't say please and thank you, and those who spit on the ground!

BEFORE YOU EVER JOINED EASTENDERS, DID YOU HAVE A FAVOURITE SLATER SISTER?

...asks Phoebe, via email

“Absolutely, Phoebe – it was Kat! I was besotted with her make-up, and I thought she was stunning. I've always admired make-up, and Jessie used to be a make-up artist, so she just looked amazing. I loved her entire wardrobe, too – and her attitude and feistiness!”

Would you ever do a reality TV show?

...asks Kelly, via email

I dream of being in Strictly, though I'm not sure I'd do well. But I love a dance and sequins and a bit of fake tan. I watched Kellie [Bright, aka Linda] in it last year, and she was brilliant. I haven't got a clue which professional I'd like to be paired up with, but I'm not too picky!

THE STEEL'S Paula is heading off for pastures new...

Corrie has lost two of its top stars recently, with Alison King (Carla) and Ryan Thomas (Jason) both leaving the cobbles. Now Paula Lane (Kylie) is heading off – and the actress said goodbye to her cast mates at a glitzy bash. Battling the blustery weather were Tina O'Brien (Sarah) and fiancé Adam Crofts, Paula's on-screen son Harry McDermott (Max) and Lucy Fallon (Bethany), among others. Meanwhile, Paula's pal Sophie Austin (formerly Hollyoaks' Lindsey Roscoe) arrived with new boyfriend Shayne Ward (Corrie's Aidan). Paula tweeted: "What a night – nearly nine months pregnant and I partied the night away... I feel so loved." Good luck, Paula!

THOMAS THE TANKS!

Blimey, these boys have been working out! Former Corrie star Ryan Thomas (Jason) and his brothers – Emmerdale's Adam (Adam) and Love Island's Scott – recently undertook a three-month body transformation programme at Manchester's Ultimate Performance Fitness – and the results are quite something. Ryan's co-star and gym enthusiast Catherine Tyldesley (Eva) is clearly an admirer – she tweeted: "Awesome transformation. Proves what hard graft and decent grub can do!" Well done, lads!

CARTERS UNITED!

It was a dream for the Carters just to escape Walford for one night

We know the Carter clan always sticks together – so it was no surprise to see them all lined up in the front row when recently departed co-star Maddy Hill (Nancy) appeared in a new production of A Midsummer Night's Dream at the Southwark Playhouse in London. Friends showed up as well as family, with barmaid Tracey (aka actress Jane Slaughter) also putting in an appearance.

“MY CORRIE MATES ALWAYS COME AND SEE ME ON STAGE!”

Ashley's tragic on-screen death was a rebirth for actor Steven, who has gone on to great things...

The death of Ashley Peacock was one of Coronation Street's most heartbreaking goodbyes. He was killed in the 2010 tram crash, and died a hero after saving the lives of Nick Tilsley and Peter Barlow – but left behind widow Claire and their kids.

While star Steven Arnold was sad to say goodbye to a job he loved so much, the Warrington-born performer says that the past few years have been incredibly exciting – especially as he's been challenged by all sorts of varied roles...

“I wanted to go out with a bang and move on to a new chapter,” shares the 41-year-old actor. “I’ve done stuff I never thought I’d do – Shakespeare, period dramas, comedies and all sorts. That’s what you want as an actor – variation. Plus I’ve been so lucky to stay in work!”

Life in a soap doesn’t lack variety either, as Steven found out when he played Ashley for 16 years. While he was married twice – to Claire and earlier to Maxine – it was the partnership between Ashley and dad Fred Elliott that viewers really loved.

“Me and John Savident, who played Fred, got on so well,” reports Steven. “He was a fabulous man to work with, and I’d say that he taught me 90 per cent of what I know today. My first big storyline was when Ashley found out Fred was his dad. All I’d done was comedy up till then, but then they trusted me with this big dramatic plot. It was brilliant.”

Having worked so closely with a comedy legend surely helped Steven with his latest role in the new musical Chaplin – The Charlie Chaplin Story. It charts the life and times of silent movie star Charlie Chaplin, and Steven is playing an incredible seven roles in the piece – including Chaplin’s brother, Sydney.

“As soon as I walked into the rehearsal room, I could tell this show was going to be special,” enthuses the star. “The cast is phenomenal, because most of them are musicians too. It’s a fantastic challenge for me as an actor to play seven roles.”

Chaplin is touring all around the UK – and working on stages across the land is great fun for

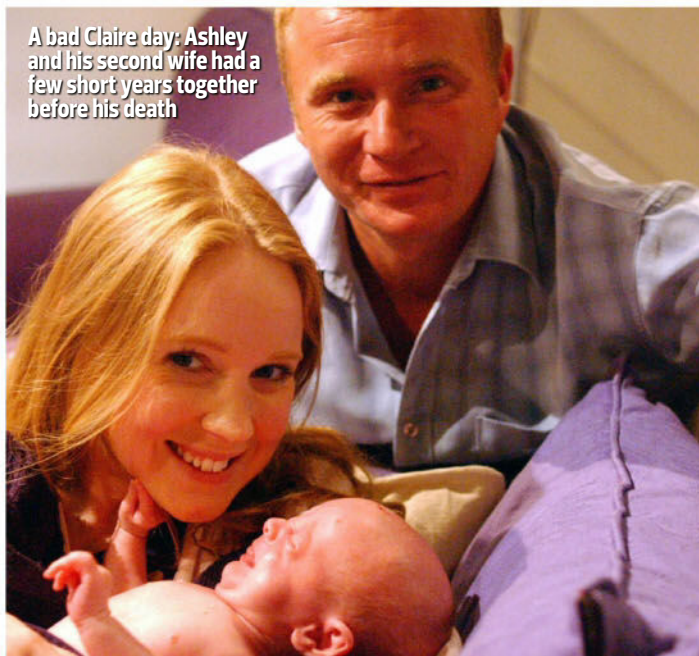

He's a nice Chaplin: Steven is treading the boards again

Steven. He says that one of the nicest things is when his friends from the cobbles – those still in the show and ex-Corrie stars – turn up to watch him in action.

“I made lifelong friends on the Street – people like Andy Whyment [Kirk], Simon Gregson [Steve] and Chris Gascoyne [Peter],” reveals Steven. “There are too many others to mention. When you work 12 hours a day for years with people, you get really close. We don’t see each other that often because we’re all working. But they come to see me when I’m in a show, and I go to see them too. It’s very nice.”

Those friendships from his time in Weatherfield endure, and Steven reckons he’s got lots of nice memories of Ashley’s antics over the years. There were a lot of comedy moments along the way, but Steven’s personal favourite involved fighting!

“There was a storyline when Ashley was a boxer and in the ring against Mad Dog Maddox,” he laughs. “It was so much fun.

A bad Claire day: Ashley and his second wife had a few short years together before his death

Two Peacocks in a pod: Maxine and Ashley were happy - until Richard Hillman intervened

I boxed myself when I was a kid, for about nine years, and when I was out with one of the writers one night and he asked me what had inspired me, I said boxing. Then two months later, Ashley was boxing in the show!

"The trouble was, he couldn't box for toffee. After the scenes aired, I saw my old boxing coach and he said to me, 'What was all that with the boxing? I taught you better than that!'. I had to remind him that it wasn't real!"

Steven is still remembered fondly as Ashley...

Although Ashley is dead, the Corrie legacy lives on for Steven. That said, he can sometimes go for months without someone asking him about the show...

"When I'm working and living in London, I forget about him," he grins. "Then I go somewhere else, and it's like, 'Blinking 'eck! It's still there!'. Often I get people asking if we went to school together - they can't quite place me."

While Steven is happy that viewers have so much love for Ashley, he reckons he's happier than ever with his life.

"When I left Coronation Street, I'd never been on stage before, and now Chaplin is my 18th theatre job," explains the actor, who returned to TV in 2011 to compete in ITV's Dancing On Ice, but was eliminated in the early stages.

"Being on stage has pushed me so much, and I'm signed up to do more stage jobs to come. So while Corrie was a great job and I have wonderful memories, I love what I'm doing now. I wouldn't swap it for the world!"

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS | ITV Monday

Sharon Rooney, Penelope Wilton, Sophie Rundle and Angela Griffin star in a new drama about Sheffield's sexual revolution...

Sex and the City

An advert in their local newspaper changes the lives of four women in this new six-part drama set in Sheffield in 1982. The classified ad says, "Ann Summers demonstrators required to run parties selling exotic lingerie for ladies only. Earn £30-40 an evening". It's an opportunity that cash-strapped young mum Steph finds hard to resist.

"I think Steph's living a life that's been mapped out for her," explains Sophie Rundle, who plays her. "She married, and she's expected to be a wife and mother, and that's the way her life is going to go. Steph just wants something more – she's looking for something more exciting."

When slightly hesitant Steph turns up at the meeting to find out more, she bumps into Nita (Angela Griffin), who she knows from the school gates, and they decide to go in together. However, they soon discover that the lingerie is just the beginning.

"It's a lot more than saucy underwear – it includes battery-operated toys and marital aids!" chuckles Angela. "Nita's initially shocked by it. I think everybody was, no matter how broad-minded they were, in 1982. It's not like Soho where you have these shops on every corner, they've never seen anything like this before. But she's so secure in her relationship that there's no threat, and she sees how much money can be made, so she just goes, 'I'll do it!'."

Steph isn't quite so lucky, as her newly unemployed husband Terry refuses to let her be a part of something that he sees as seedy and embarrassing. However, they have no money coming into the house, and Steph refuses to let the whole idea go, so she asks Pauline (Penelope Wilton), who she works part-time for as a cleaner, to host a party at her house.

"Pauline is married to Brian, who's a butcher, and she doesn't have much of a social life," reveals Penelope. "She hears about these parties, and then she realises that her husband is going to be out a lot – and also that her life is sort of slipping by. She's never done anything like this before, it's a leap in the dark for her, and she joins in and finds a group of people who are very

AGATHA RAISIN | Sky 1 Tuesday

WHAT IS IT ABOUT the countryside that lends itself so well to murder mysteries? Midsomer County is already a no-go area for anyone who values their life, and now the Cotswolds village of Carsley is heading the same way – but at least we have PR guru and amateur sleuth Agatha Raisin to round up the killers. Ashley Jensen is perfectly cast as Agatha, with a strong supporting cast including Mathew Horne, Katy Wix and Jamie Glover, plus plenty of familiar faces turning up as suspects each week. It's bright, fun, and doesn't take itself too seriously – just how we like it.

Couch POTATO

News presenter Louise Minchin picks her dream viewing...

I've just started watching New Blood.

I tend to get quite addicted to things, so when I watched the first episode and they said, "You can now watch episode two on iPlayer", I was like, "Okay!". I love the show's humour.

Growing up, I loved things such as Star Trek, I had a bit of a sci-fi thing going on!

I loved Doctor Who as well, although it used to scare me witless. I was a big fan of Grange Hill, but my mother tried to ban me from watching it, so I'd turn down the volume for the theme tune so she couldn't hear!

I've been watching The Next Step with my children.

It's brilliant, it's on CBBC and it's a bit like Fame. I try to stop them watching it without me, because I really like it! Then I noticed that I was watching it without them, which was quite embarrassing.

Friday night is film night in our house, so we try to watch a film that's family-friendly.

Last weekend we watched Mirror Mirror, and we've watched the Harry Potter films a lot, but not in any particular order. We love the first one because they're all so sweet!

I had a long period of being addicted to EastEnders when Sid Owen [Ricky Butcher] first started, so when we were on MasterChef together I once called him "Ricky" by mistake – and then I decided that, just to annoy him, I'd call him Ricky occasionally. It worked brilliantly!

sympathetic, other women who she draws a lot of strength from."

And when Pauline mentions it to Dawn (Sharon Rooney), her hairdresser, Dawn sees the parties as a new opportunity that could benefit her too – especially as she's saving up for her wedding.

"She loves it because it's something new," shares Sharon. "It's the best thing that's come around in her life for a while really. It's her own chance to enjoy life and make some money for her wedding and the new life that she wants – to get the bed sets that she's always wanted, and have the perfect home she's always dreamed of."

Is 1980s Sheffield ready for a sexual revolution? Despite the opposition of their more conservative friends and families, these four women think it is – and they've got just the tools for the job...

Starting together

Rebecca Root tells us what's in store for Judy and Leo as the romantic comedy returns...

The first series of Boy Meets Girl told a love story between a young man and an older transgender woman that was warm, witty and captivating. When it ended, Inside TV was one of many voices clamouring for a second series, because we needed to have more of Leo and Judy (and their overbearing families) in our lives.

Fortunately the BBC's comedy power players were listening, and ordered a new six-part series which arrives on our screens this week – so we called up Rebecca Root, who plays Judy, for a chat to see if the path of true love will be running smooth or not...

Hi Rebecca! Where do we find Judy at the start of the second series?

We've moved on by 'an unspecified period of time', I believe is the correct phrase! Leo is living at the Arkley household, Judy's house – they're cohabiting, but at the family home. Leo's finding it difficult to find a job that suits his temperament and so forth, and sometimes financial instability can put a lot of stress on a relationship...

Series one was about them falling in love – does series two have an element of them coming back down to earth?

Yeah, a little bit – like every good story, nothing is plain sailing because the audience wants to see how the characters deal with life's various obstacles.

Leo's mum Pam was very wary around Judy in series one, how are they getting on now?

Her character develops beautifully, and she and Judy develop their own distinct relationship. There are other characters who join the main cast during the series,

Mothers in arms: Janine Duvitski and Denise Welch as Judy and Leo's mums

All change: Judy with new character Charlie (Tyler Luke Cunningham)

"The audience wants to see how the characters deal with life's obstacles" and they bring their own stories which both challenge and support Judy and Leo's relationship, and the way Pam responds to them is lovely. She's not as brittle as she was in series one – but she's still Pam!

Did you enjoy having more scenes alongside Denise Welch, who plays Pam, in this series?

I know I sound awfully showbizzy and luvvy now, but Denise has become a great pal, and working with her is a delight – as with all the actors, we all got on really well, but Denise is special. At the end of series one I asked the writing team to give me a scene with Nigel Betts, who plays Leo's dad Tony, but I still haven't had a nice chunky scene with him, so I'm hankering for that in series three – if we get it!

What sort of response did you receive to the first series?

It was amazing – put it this way, I feel the love! It's almost overwhelming when people come up to me at functions or whatever and say, "You've helped me transition, seeing your show helped me give the reference points to my friends and family about what I was going through", that's amazing. I'm just an actor, really, but when you realise there's something bigger, something else that's happening in society, and you're a part of that, it's incredible.

The only way is ethics

Tom Burke tells us why Athos' conscience is weighing heavily on him this week...

Parisian plotters: Grimaud and Feron

THE MUSKETEERS | BBC1 Saturday

One thing we've noticed in this series of The Musketeers is that our heroes have been facing enemies who are more cunning and devious than ever before. This week, Grimaud and Feron up the stakes further by releasing a dangerous prisoner among the citizens of Paris.

"Things are much more complicated for them now," Tom Burke, who plays Athos, tells Inside TV. "This series you see the Musketeers sort of saying, 'What are we even going to do?', rather than just charging in and getting it done."

The latest episode also brings about a turning point for Athos, thanks to Sylvie's appeal to his conscience.

"Sylvie's kind of a free spirit," explains Tom. "She's got this incredible sense of ethics – she holds a mirror up to Athos to show where the bureaucracy of the state has had a corrupting influence on the regiment."

With the stakes being higher than ever in this final series, we've already seen some really impressive battle sequences. But Tom admits he might not look great in all of them.

"It was a race against time every day," he recalls. "Whatever the aspirations of the show are to look good, you do find yourself going up to continuity and saying, 'Please tell them not to use the shot where I slid on a banana skin across several cobblestones' – because they will if they haven't got it covered in another shot!"

THEY SAID IT!

What the celebs have been telling Inside TV this week...

"HE WAS STRUTTING AROUND SAYING, 'I AM THE TASKMASTER', SO HE HAD A BRIEF PERIOD WHERE HE LOST IT."

Taskmaster's Alex Horne remembers when the power (briefly) went to Greg Davies' head...

"IT'S NOT AS TALL AN ORDER AS IT MIGHT SOUND. THERE IS SOMETHING LIBERATING ABOUT NOT SITTING ON IT FOR TOO LONG!"

Amelia Bullmore likes the last-minute topical scenes on C4's Power Monkeys

"I WOULDN'T HAVE DONE IT IF THERE WAS ANY SENSE IN WHICH IT WAS PURE JAZZ HANDS AND PANTOMIME."

Judge Rinder tells us that it's important to him for his series to keep things real

CATCHPHRASE

ITV 7.15pm

Say what you see, eh? Well, what we see is a new series of Catchphrase on the horizon (although the precise time we're going to see it depends on whether ITV are showing any football tonight, so check your on-screen TV guide to make sure you tune in at the right time). Once again, Stephen Mulhern is back in charge of a collection of short animations indicating a well-known saying, and all the contestants have to do is buzz in when they think they know the answer.

As far as we're concerned, it's one of the best game shows for playing along at home, especially when you can see the obvious solution that the contestants just can't quite spot. Will one of tonight's hopefuls manage to get the £50,000 prize by solving the Super Catchphrase?

CHINA'S FORGOTTEN EMPEROR

Channel 4 8pm

You may not know her name, but Wu Zetian is the most controversial woman in Chinese history. Originally the concubine of Emperor Taizong, after his death she married his successor, Gaozong, and when he passed on she became the only woman to take the title of Emperor. She is usually remembered as a tyrant whose time in power was very bad for China, but new archaeological discoveries are suggesting otherwise.

In this programme, experts will analyse these new discoveries and how they indicate that China under Wu Zetian was powerful and stable. However, there are still signs that an element of cruelty underscored her regime, so historians will try to paint the clearest picture we have of Wu Zetian's spell as emperor.

TOP GEAR

BBC2 8pm

The revamped Top Gear comes to the end of the road tonight (for now at least), and while this version of the show has met with a mixed response from viewers and critics, we think it's starting to find its feet – or should that be 'find its wheels'? Either way, there's a treat in store for Matt LeBlanc tonight as he gets the chance to test-drive the new Porsche 911R – but what will his verdict be?

FORCES OF NATURE WITH BRIAN COX

BBC1 9pm

"The world is beautiful to look at, but it's even more beautiful to understand," says Professor Brian Cox in the opening scenes of this new four-part series.

The programme will show us how the amazing natural structures of our planet are the work of a few laws of nature, and Brian will help us make sense of them. To begin with, the show takes us to Catalonia in northern Spain, where thousands of people have assembled for a competition to build the tallest human tower. As one of the participants explains, the secret of defying gravity all comes down to geometry: if you provide a spherical base with the right pressure, you can build higher.

Afterwards, Brian heads to Canada to explain the creation of some stunning icebergs.

999: WHAT'S YOUR EMERGENCY

Channel 4 9pm

We're in Cheshire for the latest series of the documentary that follows a 999 call from the moment it's made to the point where the emergency services arrive on the scene. Tonight's opener focuses on the call centre itself. There has been a surge in 999 calls in Cheshire over the past decade, and even after recruiting new staff, the service is still under great pressure.

Seeing trouble

THE LIVING AND THE DEAD

BBC1 9pm

Nathan is still reasonably confident in his belief in science and the existence of a perfectly logical explanation for everything – but factors around him are giving him cause to question that. One of those factors is Charlie, a young local boy, who has been seeing things lately. Nathan takes an interest in him and wonders if it might simply be a case of imaginary friends, but he soon starts to think that Charlie may actually be in danger.

Meanwhile, Charlotte is desperately trying to convince the tenants on the estate of the value of progress, particularly the possibility of a nearby railway that could deliver their goods all over the country – but the repeated explosions from the surveyors testing out the suitability of the land for a viaduct aren't really helping.

The naked truth

LIFE STRIPPED BARE

Channel 4 9pm

Many of us would admit we have too much clutter in our lives, but this is a strange way of tackling it. Three households are giving up everything they own – yep, even their clothes – for 21 days. They can't buy or borrow anything (except food), they can get one item back each day, and they must continue going about their lives. If you had to choose between your pants and your phone, which way would you go?

'B' IS FOR BOOK

BBC4 9pm

This one-off documentary follows a group of primary school children in Hackney as they learn to read, and the different pace at which they get to grips with written words. For some it comes naturally, for others it's a struggle. Some kids are getting expert tuition at home, some have parents who find reading challenging themselves. Over one year, we'll see the kids getting the hang of the alphabet and just maybe starting a life-long love for reading...

THE HOTEL INSPECTOR

Channel 5 9pm

Coming from a long line of hoteliers, Alex knows a thing or two about family businesses, so she's definitely the right person to come to the aid of the Richmoor Hotel in Weymouth this week. Hotel manager Lorraine has several children who work with her, but she's been having trouble drawing the distinction between her role as a mother and as a boss. That has led to a few problems, so she's called Alex in to bring things under control before it's too late.

Alex is quick to spot the tensions among the workforce that are muddying the waters at the Richmoor, and makes it clear to Loraine that she's going to have to get more assertive if the hotel is to succeed. Can Alex train Loraine to be a manager first, and a mum second, when she's at work?

POWER MONKEYS

Channel 4 10pm

The sharp political sitcom brings things to a close tonight, once again featuring a number of scenes written and recorded very close to transmission in order to take full advantage of whatever's going on in the news right now. The Unity Unit is proving to be anything but unified as things start getting violent on all sides – and over in Russia, Oleg has committed an act of betrayal.

INSIDE BIRMINGHAM CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Channel 4 9pm

This series is an emotive watch most weeks, but we think tonight's episode is likely to have even the most steely-hearted of viewers wiping their eyes as it focuses on children who have suffered terrible accidents.

Among those coping with the possibility that their lives could be permanently changed are 12-year-old Rebecca, who is brought in by emergency airlift after falling off her horse, and there's a nerve-shredding wait for her parents as the doctors assess the extent of the injury to her brain. Elsewhere, Mollie has been hit by a car on her way home from school, and until her parents can get there, Dr Kate has to provide substitute mum support. And one mum rushes her two-year-old son to A&E after he chokes on his dinner.

Love lives

IT'S NOT ME, IT'S YOU

Channel 5 10pm

Join Eamonn, Kelly and Vicky and their latest batch of celebrity guests tonight for another round of the panel show that puts relationships under the microscope. Who will turn up with a shocking anecdote for Eamonn to read out in the First Impressions round? And there'll be another race to see whose knowledge of celebrity pairings is most extensive as the teams play Bonkbusters once again...

CELEBRITY MASTERCHEF

BBC1 8.30pm

Four of this week's celebrity chefs have survived the first heat (to remind you, we started out with Sid Owen, Amy Childs, Louise Minchin, Tina Malone and Liz Johnson, but we're not telling you which one went home).

Now the remaining chefs face the relay invention test, where they pair up in teams to make a main course and a dessert, but they aren't allowed to give each other any instructions at the point of takeover. The two contestants who have to take over midway through seem a bit baffled as to what they're even meant to do, but luckily the two level-headed starter chefs get things under way nicely.

After that, it's time for a mass catering challenge as they head to the Virgin Atlantic staff training centre in Sussex, where they have to feed 120 hungry employees...

CELEBRITY FIRST DATES

Channel 4 9pm

Meanwhile, over on Channel 4, a different batch of celebrities are hoping to find love on a blind date with a member of the public in the First Dates restaurant. Tonight, TOWIE's Jess Wright (who's no stranger to having the cameras following her love life, after all) hopes to break a run of bad dating luck, and EastEnders star Richard Blackwood (Vincent) is looking for love too. Let's hope Kim's not watching...

THE BAY GOES BOOM!

There were so many big shocks in Home and Away this week that I could barely keep up! Deaths, kidnappings, amputations, killers exposed – it was like a year's worth of drama all in one week...

I don't think I've ever been as traumatised by a soap as I am after watching this week's Home and Away! How could the writers do this to us? I've sobbed my way through every single episode. I even had a dream last night that I was in the explosion, and was crushed by a caravan!

Beth, via email

My heart goes out to Evie in Home and Away, to lose two members of her family in one week is just tragic. Actress Philippa Northeast has done a fantastic job of playing Evie as she dealt with losing her twin brother and her auntie. Let's hope she doesn't lose Josh, too.

Malcolm, Chislehurst

So Josh was the one who killed Charlotte King? What a shock! I thought it was going to be his brother Andy. Is it wrong I don't want Josh to go down for it?

Mags, via email

I'm rooting for Josh to get away with it, too! But some of you have much bigger worries on your mind...

Why hasn't anybody noticed that Irene is missing? She's been gone for days! That guy who kidnapped her is clearly the long-lost child she gave up.

Kelly, London

I think the storyline about Maddy having her arm amputated is really brave. I'm so curious to know how Home and Away will show that on screen. Surely it's a soap first?

Sandra, Hove

Turn to p26 to see what's in store for Maddy this week!

"On second thoughts, you'll have to leave the tractor outside"

RACY TRACY

You have to hand it to Tracy in Emmerdale. First she pulls gorgeous David, then she gets fit Pete to be her roomie at Vanessa's place. It does seem a bit far-fetched that the two of them would be comfortable splitting such a small space. But to be fair to Tracy, who wouldn't want to wake up to the sight of a fit farmer?

Esther, via email

JP IS CRAY-Z!

I can't believe that Hollyoaks' John Paul is taking Sally's side over Myra's. I get that he's cross about Myra lying to him for so many years, but at least she was always there for him when he needed her. Sally was the one who abandoned him as a child, he should be angry at her!

Tina, Eastbourne

I don't see why they can't all just get along and be happy.

RANT! RAVE! We love to hear your opinions. Here's how to get in touch...

"Here's a list of things I dislike about Sean..."

SILLY BILLY

No wonder Sarah in Corrie is having a meltdown. It's all the Reverend Billy's fault! If he'd dealt with his mad brother in the first place, she wouldn't have been abducted by him and put through such an ordeal.

Stephen, Glasgow

To be fair, I think Sarah's problems started long before Lee kidnapped her!

LIVING ON A PRAYER

Oh wow, I really can't believe that John Doe in Neighbours is actually a priest. I did not see that coming! I was convinced he was an undercover cop. Poor Paige, though – I can't believe that just as she and John/Jack were finally about to have their first date, she found out he was a Catholic priest.

Lauren, via email

Better she found out before the date – goodness knows what might have happened!

ROXY ROCKS

SALLY'S DA BOMB

I really loved the floral jacket that Sally wore in Corrie when she had the party at her summer house. Do you know where I can get one please?

Julia, Birmingham

Sal's floral-print bomber jacket comes from Marks & Spencer, and will cost you £59. It's out of stock online at the moment, but your local store may still have some sizes left.

"O-Behave, you two!"

O-B AND OUT?

This may sound like a daft question, but in Hollyoaks Tom said he was going off to spend the summer with 'OB'. Should I know who that is?

Michael, London

How can you not know who OB is? Sam 'OB' O'Brien was best friends with Tom's older brother Max, who took care of Tom after his parents died – and OB was like a brother to Tom after Max died, too. OB left in 2008 to live in London.

CHARITY CASE

When Charity was giving Belle some advice about Dr Bailey in Emmerdale, she mentioned a previous fella of hers who cheated on her with Debbie. Who was that?

Beryl, via email

The bloke in question was Michael Conway – Debbie met him in the village and they began dating, but he later confessed he was engaged to someone else. Imagine Deb's shock when she crashed his wedding, only to discover he was marrying her mum!

As if dealing with one Dingle wasn't enough!

I hope not, either – Andy's far too pretty for the crusher!

HELLS BELLES!

I'm quite disappointed with Belle in Emmerdale. She was supposed to be the clever Dingle, but she's being utterly brainless when it comes to Dr Bailey. Everyone saw how quickly he threw her under the bus just to save himself. It's no wonder his wife Angie ditched him so quickly – Belle should wise up and do the same.

Peter, via email

Sadly, it doesn't look as though she'll come to her senses any time soon.

MARTIN ORDERS

What on earth is EastEnders' Sonia playing at? I yelled at my TV screen when she tried to kiss Martin – he's a married man for goodness' sake! She was the one who ended her marriage to him. She has no right to go crying to him now that things have gone wrong between her and Tina.

Christina, via email

That's a bit harsh – Sonia's having a rough time of it!

SOAP shorts...

"I do love Emmerdale, but I'm getting really bored of the pirate ship scenes with Jimmy, Rishi, Rodney and Dan," grumbles Martin from Glasgow... "When will this awful football be over so we can have our soaps back?" rages Pamela from Hull...

"I'm pleased that Adam in Hollyoaks is Maxine's new love interest," says Sharonjit from Birmingham. "She deserves some happiness after everything she went through with evil Patrick!"

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY - AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

As the EastEnders costume department continues to make budget cuts, it's the newest stars who've been hit the hardest. Thank goodness.

As the Platt family fell apart, baby Harry realised he needs to get outta Dodge post-haste. Shuffle as far as your little tush can carry you, lad!

"You have exactly 93 minutes to take me to bed or lose me forever!" thrilled Priya to Rakesh, forgetting that the average man would probably get the job done six - maybe seven - times in 93 minutes.

Sean and Billy revealed that their pet names for each other include 'Bubsy', 'Mr Billster' and 'Plopsy'. How does someone earn a nickname like Plopsy? We dread to think.

Over in Hollyoaks, auditions for the new Doctor Who aren't going so well.

We've noticed that a lot of thought goes into Kim's scenes. If Kim's daughter isn't styled to match her, then her kitchen - right down to the fruit bowl - certainly is.

BULLSEYE!

We were blown away by the courage displayed by Walford's Sonia, when - to reduce her cancer risk - she made the harrowing decision to have her breasts and ovaries removed. And if she didn't have enough on her plate, the selfless woman is running around after her girlfriend's sick mother. Meanwhile, actress Natalie Cassidy is playing an absolute blinder.

Corrie's Silent Detective hasn't uttered a single word in the month he's been investigating Callum's murder. We assume the actor comes cheap!

The cheek! Blimmin' Kirin has a new life in South America, and is now demanding £20k and a photo of little Johnny from Rakesh. Murder's been the making of him!

Leanne's shock pregnancy plot has inevitably thrust her into scenes with a whole host of potential baby daddies. Dev's random sleezing was particularly stomach-churning.

Call it our 'Emmerdale intuition', but the Barton Cabs plot is a disaster waiting to happen. A tenner says Finn runs someone over in his taxi, and Ross and Pete then bond through their efforts to cover it up.
